Richard Helms, Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Langley, Virginia

Dear Mr. Helms:

I am considering building a 120-unit motel on my property in the McLean-Langley area within two miles of your Agency.

What prompts my letter is that the housing and personnel offices of the Pentagon have been cooperative in distributing brochures and referring people to motels in Arlington in which I have an interest.

I realize the sensitive nature of this matter, but am writing in hopes that I can get useful information to help me decide (a) whether to build this motel, and (b) if so, what type of accommodations. You are the largest employer in the area and would have a good idea of whether such accommodations are needed.

These are the type of questions:

(a) Is there a significant number of people (personnel, contractors and visitors) from out-of-town that visit the Agency?

(b) Do they sometimes spend several days or weeks?

(c) Would some of them need the efficiency type of unit in which you can cook?

(d) Does the Agency furnish information or brochures to out-of-town persons needing accommodations?

I would be grateful if you would authorize some one in your Agency to discuss this matter with me. My phone number is 356-4115.

Very truly yours,
